Shown breaking ground for Grace Freeman Hall are Rev. F. Jenkins, Mr. J. Bosshart, President Partridge, and Miss Grace Freeman.

Ceremony Dedicates Grace Freeman Hall

Dedication of the site of Grace Freeman Hall was held April 29, 1962, at 5:00 p. m. on the Montclair campus.

The program consisted of remarks by President E. DeAlton Partridge; a response by Grace M. Freeman, for whom the new women's dormitory is named; and a dedication prayer given by Frederick F. Jenkins, D.D. of the Presbyterian Church in Irvington-on-Hudson, New York. Mr. John Bosshart, former New Jersey commissioner of education, was also in attendance.

Grace Freeman Hall, a six-story building, will be located in front of Chapin and Russ Hall overlooking Valley Road.

Miss Freeman, class of 1918, taught in Caldwell and Montclair public schools from 1918-1933 and Upsala College from 1935-1956. She has traveled extensively throughout the United States and has toured England, Scotland, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland and Canada.

As a member of the state legislature from 1947-1952, Miss Freeman helped sponsor legislation authorizing a $15,000,000 bond issue for state colleges. Also a former director of the Oranges and Maplewood Chapter of the American Red Cross, the prominent civic leader is listed in Who's Who in the East and Who's Who of American Women. As chairman of the War Memorial Fund, Miss Freeman was instrumental in the erection of Life Hall.

President Partridge commented, "In recognition of a life service to education in New Jersey, Montclair State College is pleased to honor a distinguished alumna of the college."

"Grace M. Freeman Hall, long a dream, is now becoming a reality. This building will be a home away from home to hundreds of young women."

"The name of Grace M. Freeman and her example of public service will follow these young people throughout their lives."

Nu Psi Holds Prof of Year Competition

The recently organized Nu Psi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, will hold a "Most Popular Professor Contest" during the week of May 7-11. The nominees for "Most Popular Professor" are Mr. Philip Cohen (social studies), Mr. Lawrence Conrad (English), Dr. Steven Earley (English), Dr. Herbert Hauer (psychology), Dr. Daniel Jacobson (geography) and Dr. Max Sobel (mathematics).

Anyone may vote in this contest and may vote as many times as he wishes. Votes cost 1¢ each and are scored by dropping coins into the container bearing the picture of the professor of one's choice. The professor who "earns" the most money will be named "Most Popular Professor of the Year."

The "polls" will be located outside of the cafeteria in Life Hall throughout the entire week. Proceeds from this contest will be used by the Nu Psi chapter to help defray the cost of continuing its service projects for Montclair State.

Parents Day Set For May

Montclair State College is planning this year to combine its traditional annual Freshman Parents Day with an open house to which the general public will be invited.

The plan of the day is to combine three activities of the college in such a way that each enhances the effect of the other. Those activities are the traditional Freshman Parents Day, the alumni weekend, and the All-College Open House. It is expected that 3500 or more visitors will come to the campus on the afternoon of May 20. Elaborate plans are being made in the various departments to set up demonstration and displays of the activities of the college so that the public will be better informed as to the kind of programs we offer.

The day's schedule will include an outdoor band concert, an organ concert, an outdoor art display (set up in the area where Carnival is usually placed), guide tours for the visitors, and guides from the Foreign Language Department dressed in appropriate costumes. In addition, refreshments will be served in several places around the campus.

For the freshmen's parents, the usual departmental meetings will be held. The freshmen parents, as a group, will be greeted by Dr. Partridge and other persons with whom their sons or daughters will be in contact in the early part of their college career.

'Slave' Auction Provides Funds

A varied assembly program was presented on Tuesday, May 1, 1962. A brief announcement about Carnival was the first topic on the agenda. The Montclair Twirlers provided a precision exhibition. A trio composed of Denny Fitzsimmons, Jake Landry and Bud Meyers provided musical entertainment, while a humorous skit was presented by Bill Labance, John Scanlon, and Dave Fixler.

A slave auction was the final item on the program. John Torchia, acting as auctioneer, sold Pat Wolzanski, Mr. Ralph Faneli, and the duo of Dick Greco and Denny Fitzsimmons. Sold as a trio were Bill Labance, John Scanlon and Dave Fixler. Mr. Kowalski, senior class adviser, was sold for over five dollars. Diane Morris and David Flaker, of the Montclarion, were auctioned off and Paul Simpson rounded out the list of "slaves."

The money raised is forwarded to the scholarship fund for a student presently enrolled in MSC.

Members Attend SEA Convention

The annual Student New Jersey Education Association convention was conducted at Blairstown, New Jersey, April 27-29. Two hundred students, both high school FTA members and college SNJEA members, attended the conference.

Toby Wilson, present SNJEA president, relinquished her office to Charles Rupinski of Seton Hall while Montclair student Warren Farrell was elected to the state executive committee as college member-at-large.

The three day conference included the inception of a Speakers' Bureau which will train college students as speakers who will discuss college life and organizations to the requesting high school.

Other topics debated were team teaching, merit pay, the lobby group of NEA in Washington and the degree of teacher certification.

Miss Emma Fantone, of Montclair's Audio-Visual Department, spoke on the practicality of programmed learning and teaching

Closed Group

Occasionally we hear it remarked that the Montclarion staff is a "closed group." No matter what our policy might be about anything, it is immediately assumed that it was decided by a close-knit little clique eager to criticize but loathe to praise. Many of our critics maintain that the Montclarion has become geared to the whims of a few English majors; and that, to the wishes of the student, it remains un-speaking and unresponsive unless you happen to be "in."

We resent and take issue with the accusation that we are not open to the expressed wishes of the student body as a whole. In an editorial of a few weeks ago, we mentioned the many comments we receive concerning student wishes. We try to investigate these requests and pass them along into channels where they will bear the most fruit.

We steadfastly maintain that we on the staff of the Montclarion do not form a closed group. We always are seeking new staff members who are willing and eager to work on the newspaper. Our editorial policy is determined by the staff and expressed by the Co-Editors-in-Chief in the Editorial column and by the various page editors on their pages with the supervision of the Co-Editors-in-Chief.

Our office is open to any student who wishes to see us, criticize us, join us or express his views on the school through us.

Thanks

Editorial Comment:

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the SGA for granting our request for additional funds. If they had not taken steps to advance us the money necessary to publish the Montclarion for the remainder of the school year this would have been our last issue. Through their interest in the paper, we feel they have indicated their interest in the student body, and we say publicly, "Thank you."

Maxine Levy read a list of their expenses. A discussion followed concerning the functions which the Citizenship Committee must fulfill.

A motion was made by Joe Attanasio that the Board of Trustees appropriate $455 from the Board of Trustees' account for the Citizenship Committee. The motion was withdrawn.

As $300 of the $455 to be appropriated is for a trip to Washington, D. C., for the Citizenship conference, a discussion followed concerning the purpose and value of such a trip.

Dean Huber explained the value of this conference.

Some of the topics discussed at the meeting were: exchange assembly programs, exchange club programs and exchange workshops, as with the Montclarion.

Dean Huber stated that institutional results will be made available to the student body.

Class Elections:

A discussion concerning the use of absentee ballots for the students going to Camp Wapalane, during the week of the elections, resulted in President Villani appointing George Schmidt to inform the group going to Wapalane at their camp orientation conference that there will be an absentee vote on Friday, May 11, from 11:30 to 4:30 in the SGA office.

Apology

FAA Presents Original Play

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly apologize to the Fine Arts Association for neglecting to mention their recent production in the last issue of the Montclarion.

This group deserves the highest commendations for bringing to fruition an outstanding example of student creativity in the form of a play, "Let's Dust Off Mother And Have A Party" The production, written by Ken Kappowitz, directed by the author and Robert Cantius, and produced by Dennis Carroll, was evidence of considerable work on the part of all students involved.

Although the play was weak as a whole, it showed amazing possibilities for development into an interesting and unique drama. Dealing with a married couple's devotion to an artificial "mother," the story unwinds to find even the neighbors talking with and about "mother" as if she were alive. It is not until "mother" is the cause of a violent quarrel between husband and wife that those involved turn on her and she "goes to pieces," as the author concludes.

An hilarious creation and an interesting study of human nature in parts, "Let's Dust Off Mother And Have A Party" was generally slow moving, boring, and tedious.

However, the students involved should be encouraged to continue their efforts along these lines. With more work and encouragement, a group such as the FAA might be capable of producing something truly worthy of appearing on the stage before a paid audience.

Teachers Offer Gift; From Where I Sat . . . Educate Our Youths

Reprinted from the NEA Journal,
April 1962

Let's face it. Teaching is frustrating, nerve-wracking, demanding, tiring work. Do what he may, the teacher remains the butt of poor jokes, the object of endless criticism, and the scapegoat for many of society's most widely shared shortcomings.

But it is the teacher to whom parents and politicians, businessmen and clergymen turn, time after time, to set straight whatever is wrong with youth or the world. Are children unmindful of their elders' unrealized ambitions? Are the national goals neglected? Is free enterprise endangered? Do we lack the moral strength we ought to have? See the teacher!

Any teacher can find dozens of reasons, many of them plausible, to feel sorry for himself. But there are more convincing reasons for teachers to feel quite differently about their work and about themselves. For when due allowance has been made for the irresponsible criticism, the foolish expectations, the fuzzy thinking, and the exaggerated claims, the truth comes through, clear and unassailable: The teacher is a most important person.

This new appreciation of the teacher reflects one of the more curious — and welcome — paradoxes of our time. It has taken the enormous increase in the quantity of physical energy within man's reach to remind us that the central element in all our power, in all our plans for using power, is the educated man. We have had to be reminded, for many had forgotten, that technical proficiency, although it is essential, is insufficient either to build this world nearer to our dreams or to carry us to other regions of the universe.

In the days in which we live and teach, it should not be difficult to sustain that faith. Whenever men have believed that the human mind and spirit should be illuminated, the good teacher has been held in esteem and respect. It is so here and now, as it always will be where freedom, opportunity, and excellence are valued. In twenty centuries, no one has been able to answer Cicero's question: "What greater or better gift can we offer the republic than to teach and instruct our youth?"

Business Students Meet at Montclair

More than two hundred high school business students, their faculty sponsors, businessmen, and business educators are expected to attend.

His topic will be "Tomorrow's Employees." Preceding his presentation, greetings will be given by Professor B. E. Shore as representative of the MSC Business Education Department; Mr. Robert D. Joy, state supervisor of Distributive and Business Education; Miss Evelyn Lake, FBFA president from Pennsylvania.

Presiding at the convention will be Miss Ilene Horner, New Jersey FBFA president, a senior at the Burlington Senior High School.

If magnificent scenery and brilliant costumes are indicative of a successful performance then the audience can expect a splendid presentation of Moss Hart's Light Up The Sky from the moment the curtain rises.

For a full three acts there is only one scene: the living room of the Livingstones' Boston hotel suite. The entire action of the comedy takes place amid white antique furniture and within pink walls adorned with elaborate doorways. It is obvious that absolutely no effort has been spared in creating an atmosphere of luxury and wealth from the rose and bright blue upholstered chairs down to the rich red velvet tapestries draped around the lone window in the room.

No less striking are the costumes, the majority of which are satin. The audience is not only witness to a dazzling parade of rose, royal blue, black and white dresses and accessories, but even gets to see the male characters—usually conforming to a dark suit—dressed in red plaid jackets, tuxedos, and boldly-striped bathrobes.

The characters in Light Up the Sky depict a group of New York theater people during the trial run of their play and their concerns and reactions over it.

The entire cast has obviously been chosen with great care, and each member gives an excellent performance. Irene Livingstone's somewhat shallow personality is well-depicted by Pat Studerus just as Fred Misurella's portrayal of shy, insecure and self-conscious Peter is extremely well-done. Charles Ringle as manager-producer Sidney Black gets his character across as possessing an unusual ability for making money on nearly any business venture, while Jim Albertson as director Charlton Fitzgerald constantly threatens to cry. The character of Stella Livingstone is dynamically portrayed by Maureen Mahoney with Dot Gioseff providing an able gin partner as Frances Black. Glenn Mahler as Owen Turner, the first to really see through the others' surface personalities; Barbara Carroll as the secretary Miss Lowel; Bill Jacobs as the stage-truck William Gallagher; Jim Treloar as Irene's husband Tyler Rayburn; and the rest of the cast also give fine performances.

The prediction at the moment appears to be a successful summer touring Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia, and performing to USO military bases. But excuse me—I'm on my way to get a copy of Irene Livingstone's autobiography, A Bow to the Moon.

Sportrait . . .

by Joe Snow

Too often it happens that really devoted people never reach the general ear of the public and receive the recognition they deserve until almost too late. Highlighted this week is such an "unsung hero" who, because of his easy amiability and modesty, has not been acclaimed. He is senior Mike Iannelli.

Mike is finishing his last year at Panzer and is a rare individual. He is sincere, hard working, a real sportsman and a fastidious trainer. When he "goes out" for a sport his rigid training schedule usually results in the perfect coordination and fine physical shape needed for all-out effort.

Two Time Captain

Mike puts forth determination and skill with rare regularity, a fact that has resulted in his election to co-captainship of both the soccer and baseball teams this year.

Soccer Slammer

His head and footwork saved many games for the booters last fall. Playing a position that usually doesn't get the opportunity to score, Mike thrilled his teammates when he scored his first goal on a penalty kick.

Gymnastic Performer

Turning his attention to gymnastics Mike demonstrated precision work in performing some of the most difficult of physical feats. He sparkled for Gym Club.

Last Year's 400

Returning to baseball, Mike has a remarkable fielding percentage and is one of the leading hitters. Despite being a Spartan trainer, he shows a streak of the sentimental; he insists on playing shortstop with a well-worn glove with a paper-thin pocket. Last year Mike also batted near 400.

Clark Regional Boy

Originally a footballer from Clark Regional High School, Mike is a brother of Senate fraternity, and is, on all counts, worthy of recognition as an exceptionally well-rounded athlete, student, and sportsman.

You guys can play soon as I tee off . . . !

Clubs swing and sand flies, as Montclair's baseball team dejectedly waits for a Glassboro golfer to "play thru" at Sandyknoll. (Story Below)

Montclair Splits Doubleheader; Maintains Conference Lead

by Tom Collins

Montclair split a doubleheader with Glassboro at Glassboro's Sandyknoll Stadium deep in the South Jersey "bush" country last Saturday afternoon. The Indians lost the first game 4-2, but bounced back to take the second easily by an 8-3 margin.

Despite the split, Montclair is still first in the New Jersey State College Conference with a 5-1 record. Jersey City and Glassboro are tied for second with 3-2 records.

Baseball on Golf Course?

The Indian attack in the first game was definitely inhibited by the inferior playing facilities at Glassboro in addition to some "home" umping. Sandyknoll, Glassboro's home field, also doubles as a golf course, and is therefore unique in college baseball.

Sand Trap Hazards

Sand traps were prominent, particularly at home plate and first base. It was explained later that home plate is also the ninth hole when golf is played there.

Sand Storms Too?

It was difficult for the batters to "dig-in" at home plate since there was at least six inches of sand between the surface and solid ground. Another outstanding feature of this "diamond" were the rocks in the sand around the bases—this was to prevent sand storms.

Lose First Game

Glassboro was leading 1-0 in the third inning of the first game when Jim "the Spitter" Schafer tripled, scoring two, and then making it home on a misplayed relay from the outfield. Montclair scored runs in the fifth and sixth innings but both rallies were halted by South Jersey officiating.

After a 20 minute respite, the Indian nine came back looking for a win and some redemption.

Cows in Second Game

Between games more rocks were dumped, the sand had stopped blowing, and the herd of cows that was grazing in left center field was moved. Aided by this "break", Montclair exploded for 8 runs on 15 hits and proved the old axiom that there is nothing like hits to overcome home umps.

Joe Staub picked up the win with relief pitcher Pat Piegari striking out five in the sixth and seventh innings to insure the victory. Bob Dziadosz and Al De Palma contributed homers to the Indian effort and Pete Altieri continued his hitting streak with a 5 for 7 effort in the two games. Mike Iannelli also made some sparkling plays at shortstop to kill two Glassboro rallies.

It was a long day down there at Sandyknoll and all that remains to be said is that with wider bats it would have been a grand golf match. Sandyknoll is great for golf.

Sprinters Drop Close Contest; Seven Firsts Reward Indians

by Pete Clooney

"Sevens" were the key to last Saturday's triangle meet as the rocketing Redskins clashed on the cinders with Central Connecticut and Adelphi College. The Indian cindersmen turned it on and netted seven firsts against the two schools, but the seesaw battle ended with Montclair down by seven points. Montclair ran for 80 points, Central Connecticut had 87 and Adelphi 9.

Bill Hampton started off the Montclair scoring tide by grabbing a first place in the 100-yard dash, and then following it up with another first in the 220-yard sprint. Paul Simpson, Montclair's hopping hurdler, scored a first in both the high and low hurdles.

Gerry Rosen placed first in the high jump and also scored another triumph in the broad-jump. Mike Marchione took first in the shot put for the Indians.

Ed Troy took three second places as he dashed his way to score in the 100-yard dash, leapt for another second in the high hurdles, and then completed his day in the field by capturing the second spot in the low hurdles.

Paul Simpson collared a second in the 880-yard run while Charlie Kane came in second spot in the 230-yard effort. In the two mile run, Bob Purcell finished just behind the first place winner, to take his second in this gruelling race.

In the field events, the Indian horde collared two more second places with Mike Arace scoring for the Indians in the broad jump, and Bill Bennett leaping over for more points in the high jump.

Bob Purcell, Charlie Kane, Bill Bennett, and Ed Troy returned again to the scoring scene as they compiled more points for Montclair by taking thirds. Bob Purcell took his in the mile run, Charlie Kane scored his in the 440-yard dash, Bill Bennett, in the 100-yard dash, and Ed Troy, in the broad jump.

Indians Blast Prof Netmen

by Richie Catullo

After losing a very close match against New Paltz by a score of 5-4, and then dropping another match to Seton Hall with a 9-0 trouncing, the Indian netmen snapped back this Saturday to crush Glassboro State 7-2.

Montclair's top seeded, Pete Cimbalic, new racket in hand, tore viciously through Glassboro's Les Simons 6-3, 6-2, and started the Indians on their victory streak. Second seeded Richie Catullo, stroking well and driving Glassboro's Bernie Nottingham deep to the back court, turned in a 6-1, 6-4 victory.

Richie Jones quickly cleared the court of all opposition with his 6-0, 6-1 win, while Wally Stone swiftly overpowered Glassboro's Bert Freimenis, 6-2, 7-5.

Bob Banta controlled his whole match defeating Stan Friedman 7-5, 6-2. Bob Louheir, coupled his aggressive drives with brilliant net play, and gained a 6-0, 4-6, 6-4 win over the Prof's Larry Lucas.

In doubles, a change of tide brought Glassboro its first win of the meet. Cimbalic and Catullo were unable to put anything together and they lost in a close 5-7, 3-6 match.

In the second seeded doubles match with Louheir and James losing to Frysak and Friedman 4-6, 3-6. Then Montclair's third doubles squad of Stone and Banta teamed up to slam the door in Glassboro's face, defeating Seeley and Verbaro 6-0, 6-4.

Female Foilers Have Top Season Record

by Roxie Busch

Once a Montclair fencer picks up a foil in September, she is not likely to put in down until June. This year is proving no exception.

The Montclair sportswomen turned in a strong season record — winding up with their third place finish in the Intercollegiate Women's Fencing Association Championship at Fairleigh Dickinson. This is the highest placing of any Montclair team in the championships.

Statistically speaking, the varsity foursome consisting of captain Marion Johnson, Eleanor Gutowski, Roxie Busch and Susan Miller, fenced collectively in 176 regular season bouts, winning 86 (49%) and losing 90 (51%) for a five win, six loss record.

They fenced powerful Paterson State and FDU twice each during the season—taking eleven bouts from the former and five from the latter school.

While at the Intercollegiate, the team reversed their regular season scores, winning 51% and losing 49%. In order to do this, they reversed a nine to seven loss to Brooklyn, suffered a setback in an upset loss to FDU (Rutherford), tied Hunter, and, in a unique repeat of their victory over Hunter exactly one year ago at the championships, beat them by one touch, for an overall 3-3 mark.

MSC revenged their loss to Rutherford by taking third place over this team by one bout. On these two days, the girls fenced 128 bouts, winning 65, losing 63.

Though the girls fenced 304 IWFA bouts, they also entered the Amateur Fencer's League of America contests. Continuously placing well, they added two gold and one bronze individual medals to their team tally of four, finishing with seven this year.

A recap of the season would not be complete without mentioning the constant inspiration of the coach Mrs. Catherine Taylor. Mrs. Taylor, in two years of voluntary coaching for her alma mater, has seen the team expand until Montclair now has varsity, jr. varsity and freshman teams. Under her efficient tutelage, her two varsities have placed fourth and third in consecutive Intercollegiate championships.
